We celebrate these students for their perseverance, discipline, teamwork, and intelligence, and we thank their coaches, trainers, physical education teachers, and parents for their unwavering support and guidance.”

“I am extremely proud of every student athlete in BCPS,” said Michael Sye, coordinator of athletics. “Not only did they persevere during this very difficult time both in the classroom and on the field, but they have demonstrated that hard work, commitment, and dedication does pay off in the long run.
