New workshop series to be conducted in Spanish for parents of BCPS students

Series to focus on helping parents navigate school system and support their children's academic success

What: Through a six-week, culturally-sensitive workshop, conducted in Spanish, parents of Baltimore County Public Schools students will learn how to navigate the educational system and how to take an active role in their child's education. The workshops will explore ways for parents to collaborate with school staff and community members to learn more about available educational opportunities. The workshop series is presented by BCPS Parent University and the Latino Education Advancement Fund (LEAF). The presenter will be Dinorah Olmos, founding executive director of LEAF.

When: Thursdays, August 26 and September 2, 9, 16, 23, and 30, from 8 – 9 p.m.

Where: Register online at <https://tinyurl.com/LEAF-BHES>

Background: Throughout August, through its Back2BCPS campaign, the school system will be sharing information about school registration, immunizations, COVID-19 vaccinations, fall athletics, and new academic programs and initiatives.
